Huyler and Mr. Comfort, says the Jacksonville Metropolis.

This tract was purchased by the two capitalists over a year ago, for the purpose of raising sugar cane and other products, more especially, however, for the cultivation of sugar cane. It is the intention of both gentlemen to grow sugar cane enough on the tract in time to come to support their candy and ice cream manufacturing

Mr. Huyler as well as Mr. Comfort is intensely interested in the outcome of their plan to establish a sugar cane plantation, and the dredge now at work in the South fork of the Miami river will, within the next year, dig canals sufficient to drain an area of about three hundred acres, upon which they will plant the experimenta; crop of sugar cane and vegetables of various varieties, trees, etc.

Dikes will be built on the south bank of the main canal, and the other canal will circle the area to be drained, and connect with the main canal. Just how long this work will take, it is not known, but Mr. Comfort will return here the first part of June and personally superintend the work for a time.

When the work is accomplished and the question of the adaptability of the soil for the purpose sought is determined-and Mr. Comfort entertains no fear that the soil is not adapted to the growth of sugar cane—the entire ten thousand acre tract will be drained and planted in sugar cane, the product of which will supply the factories of the largest ice cream and To the end that a thorough test of candy manufacturing concerns in the
